

What was there to celebrate in what you heard in the story?

What are you wondering about?

What do you hope for going forward?

What one small thing would we like to ask, think more about, do after discussing this story?

Your Stories have Legs

- questions lead them in new directions -